History of the Senior Class

Of the sixteen seniors in the class of 1954, only two have been continuous classmates in the past twelve years. These two are Mildred Donnelly and Lewis Stockton. As these two advanced through the grades, they saw many changes, as former pupils moved away and new ones came in. During the third year they were joined by Phyllis Potts, and in the fourth grade Beverly Cooper and Marian Baugous were added. In the fifth the number was increased by two when Peggy Russell and Hallene Anderson entered our school. Jim Nelsen and Richard Lund added two more in the seventh grade and Sandra Nelson joined us in the eighth grade.

The class received its greatest increase in the ninth year when eight freshmen entered from our country schools. These were Joan Pedersen, Marjorie Jacobsen, Betty Georgesen, Mary O'Connor, Albert Byroad, Paul Bielenberg, Pete Jorgensen, and Dan Johnsen. Near the close of this year we lost Sandra Nelson who moved to the State of Washington. Mr. Slosson was our sponsor during this year. The outstanding event was our initiation.

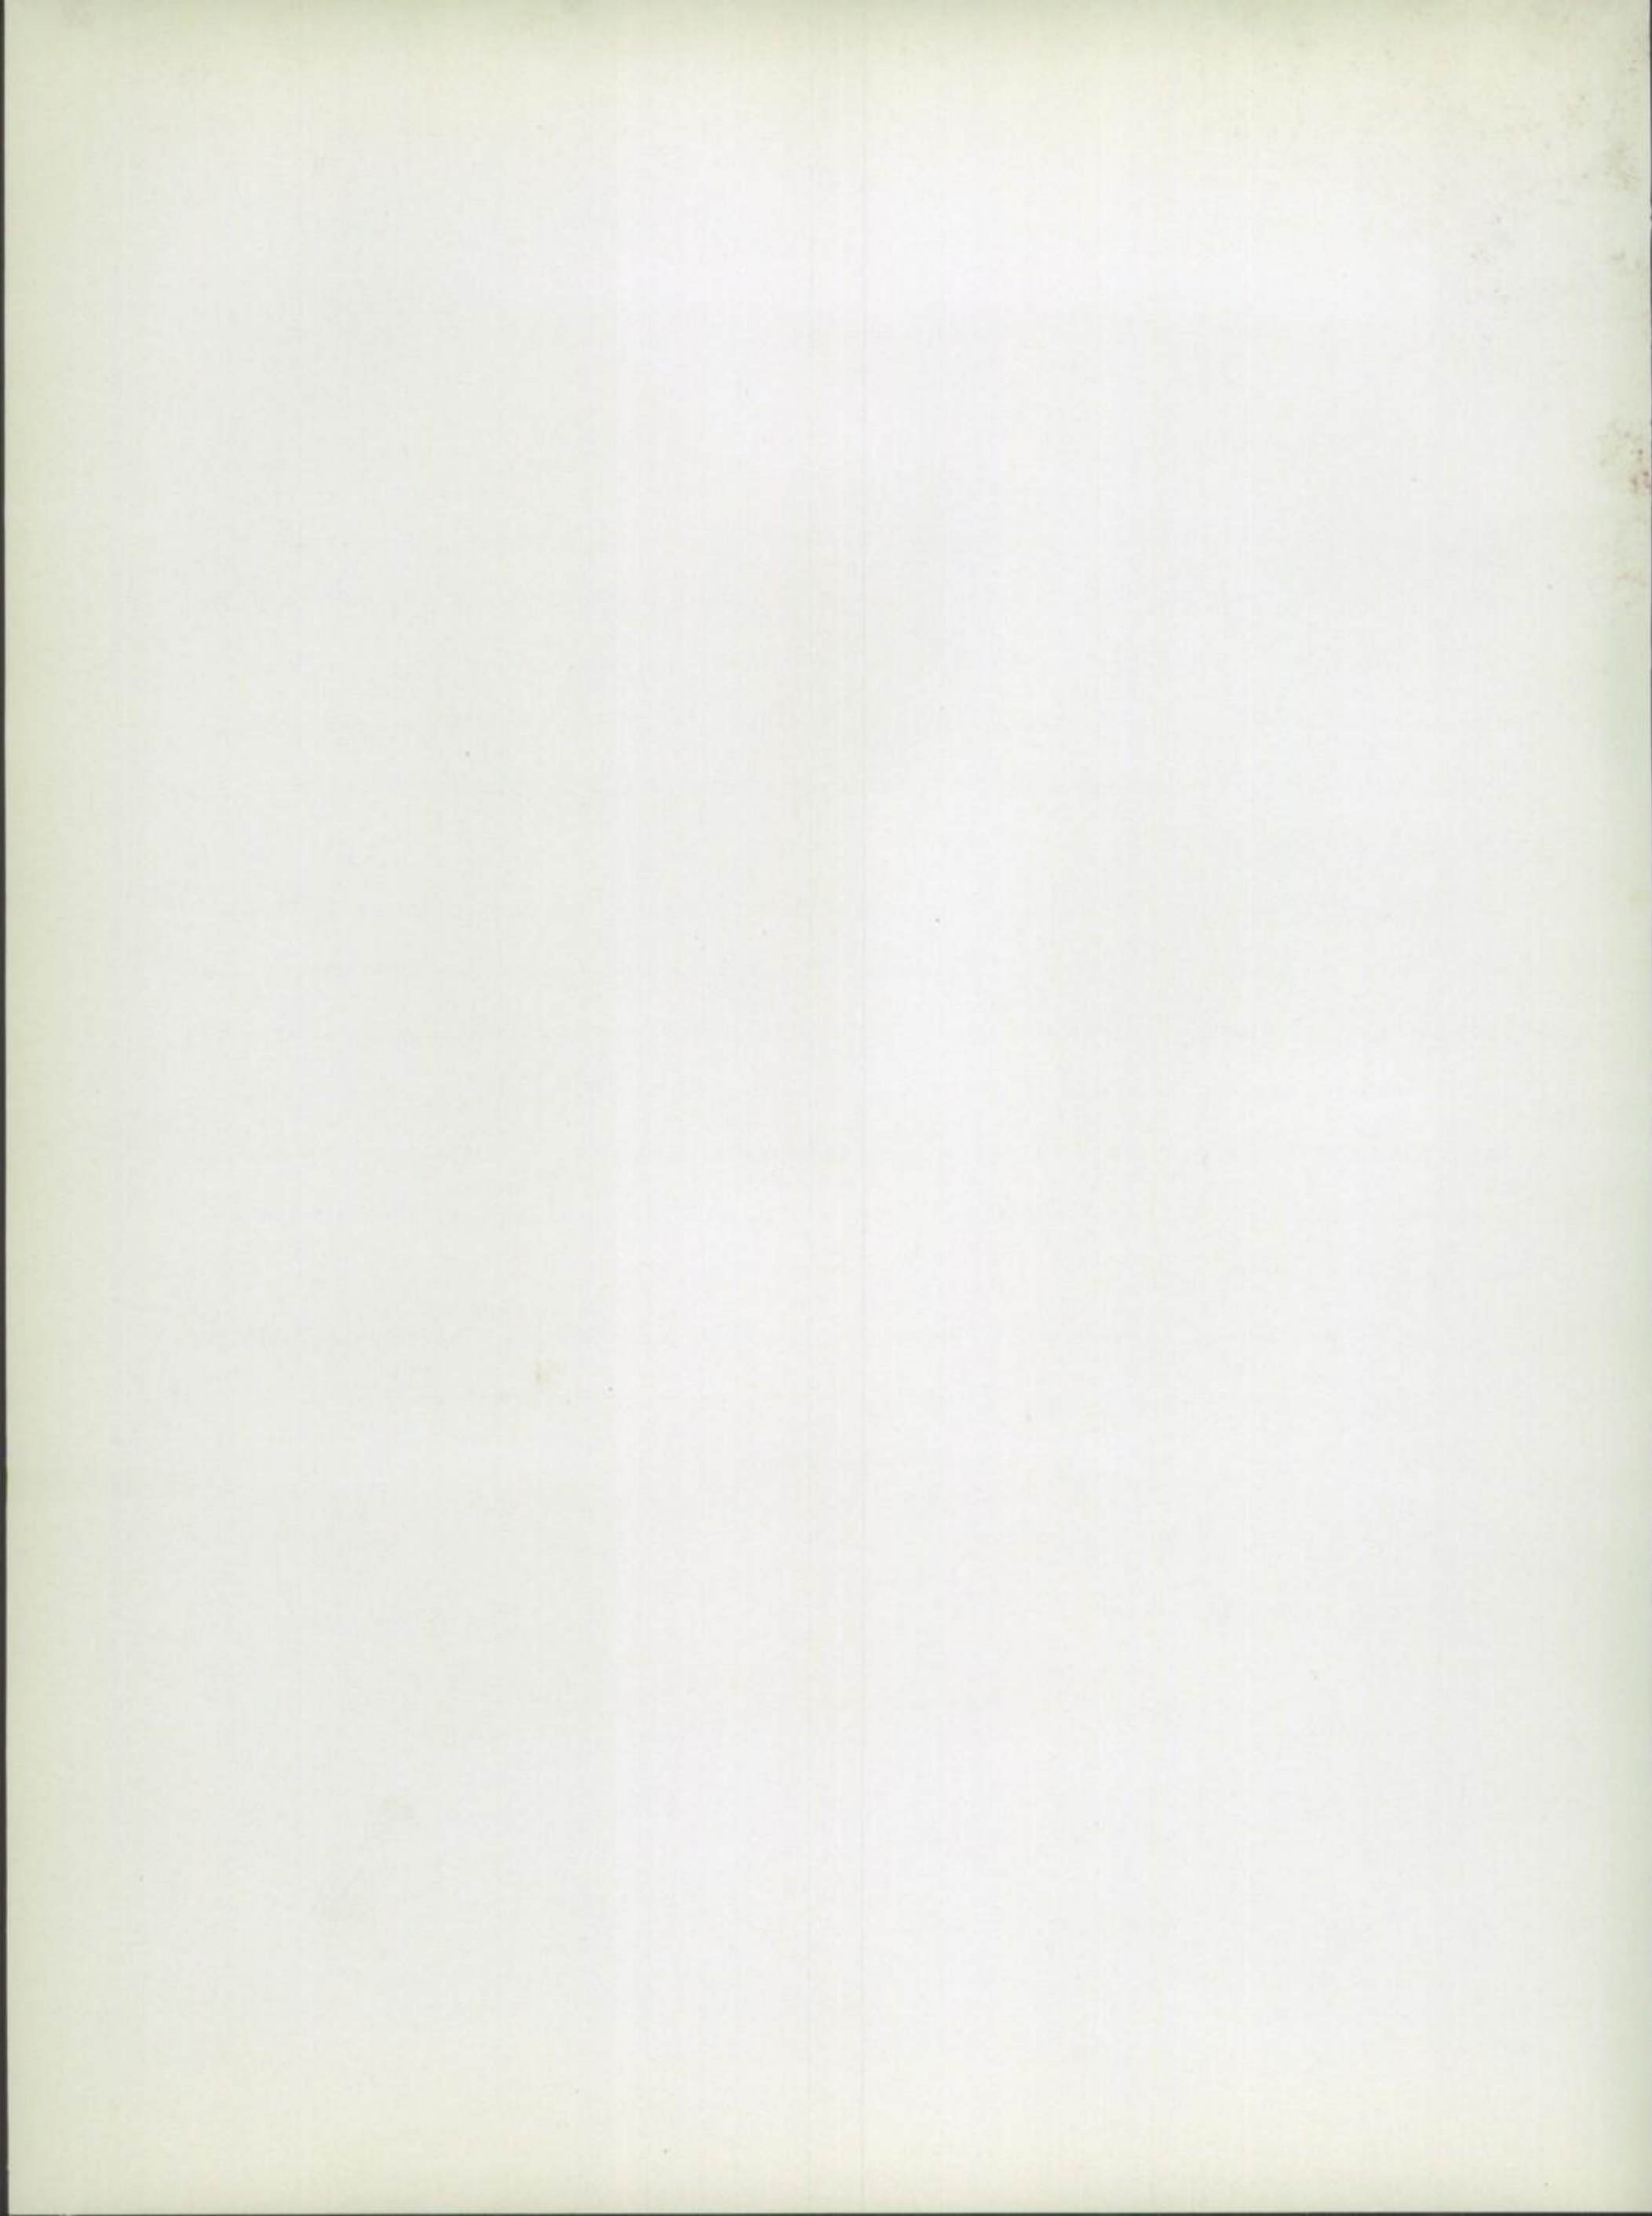

At the start of the sophomore year our number remained the same, as Pauline Anderson joined us, replacing Paul Bielenberg, who had moved from our community after completing the ninth grade. Mrs. Doran was our class sponsor. During the year we put on a couple of skits and discovered that our class contained promising play material.

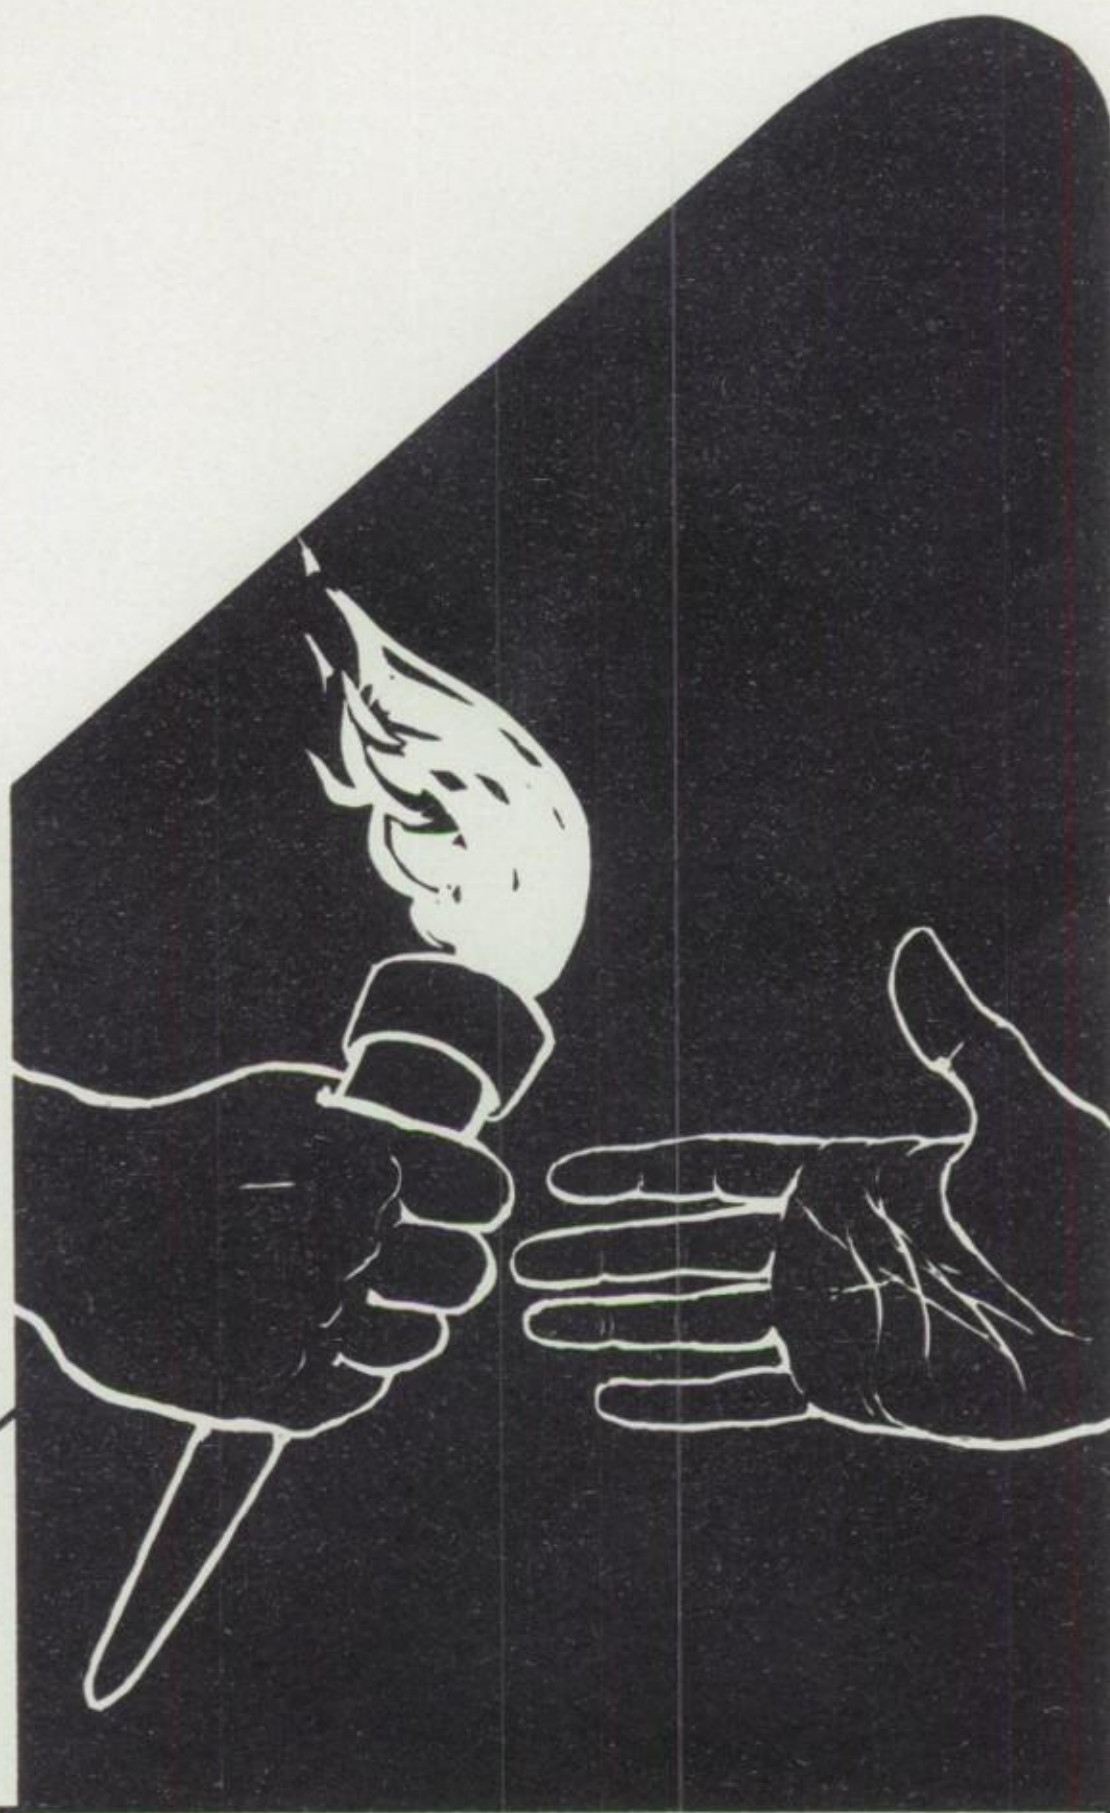

During our junior year our class number was increased when Norma Heath entered. The class sponsor was Miss Irle. Our class play, "Aunt Samathy Rules the Roost", was a huge success, and a number of the class displayed real talent. We held the banquet for the seniors at the Mayfair Hotel in Sioux City. During this year we had the privilege of participating in County Government Day (with other juniors of the county schools) in the Dakota County Courthouse at Dakota City. In the spring the senior class and we were guests of Mrs. Doran at a picnic in Stone Park.

We entered our senior year with a roll call of sixteen, two of our members, Beverly Cooper and Phyllis Potts, having left our ranks. Mrs. Doran is our sponsor. We elected Jim Nelsen class president, Mary O'Connor vice-president, and Hallene Anderson secretary and treasurer. The first semester was a busy season with our studies, athletics, and various schemes for raising money for our Sneak Day. In the fall, we, as well as other Senior Classes of the county, were conducted on a soil conservation tour which was interesting and informative. We found a king and queen to rule over our Homecoming in Betty Georgesen and Dick Lund. Hallie Anderson and Jim Nelsen were their attendants.

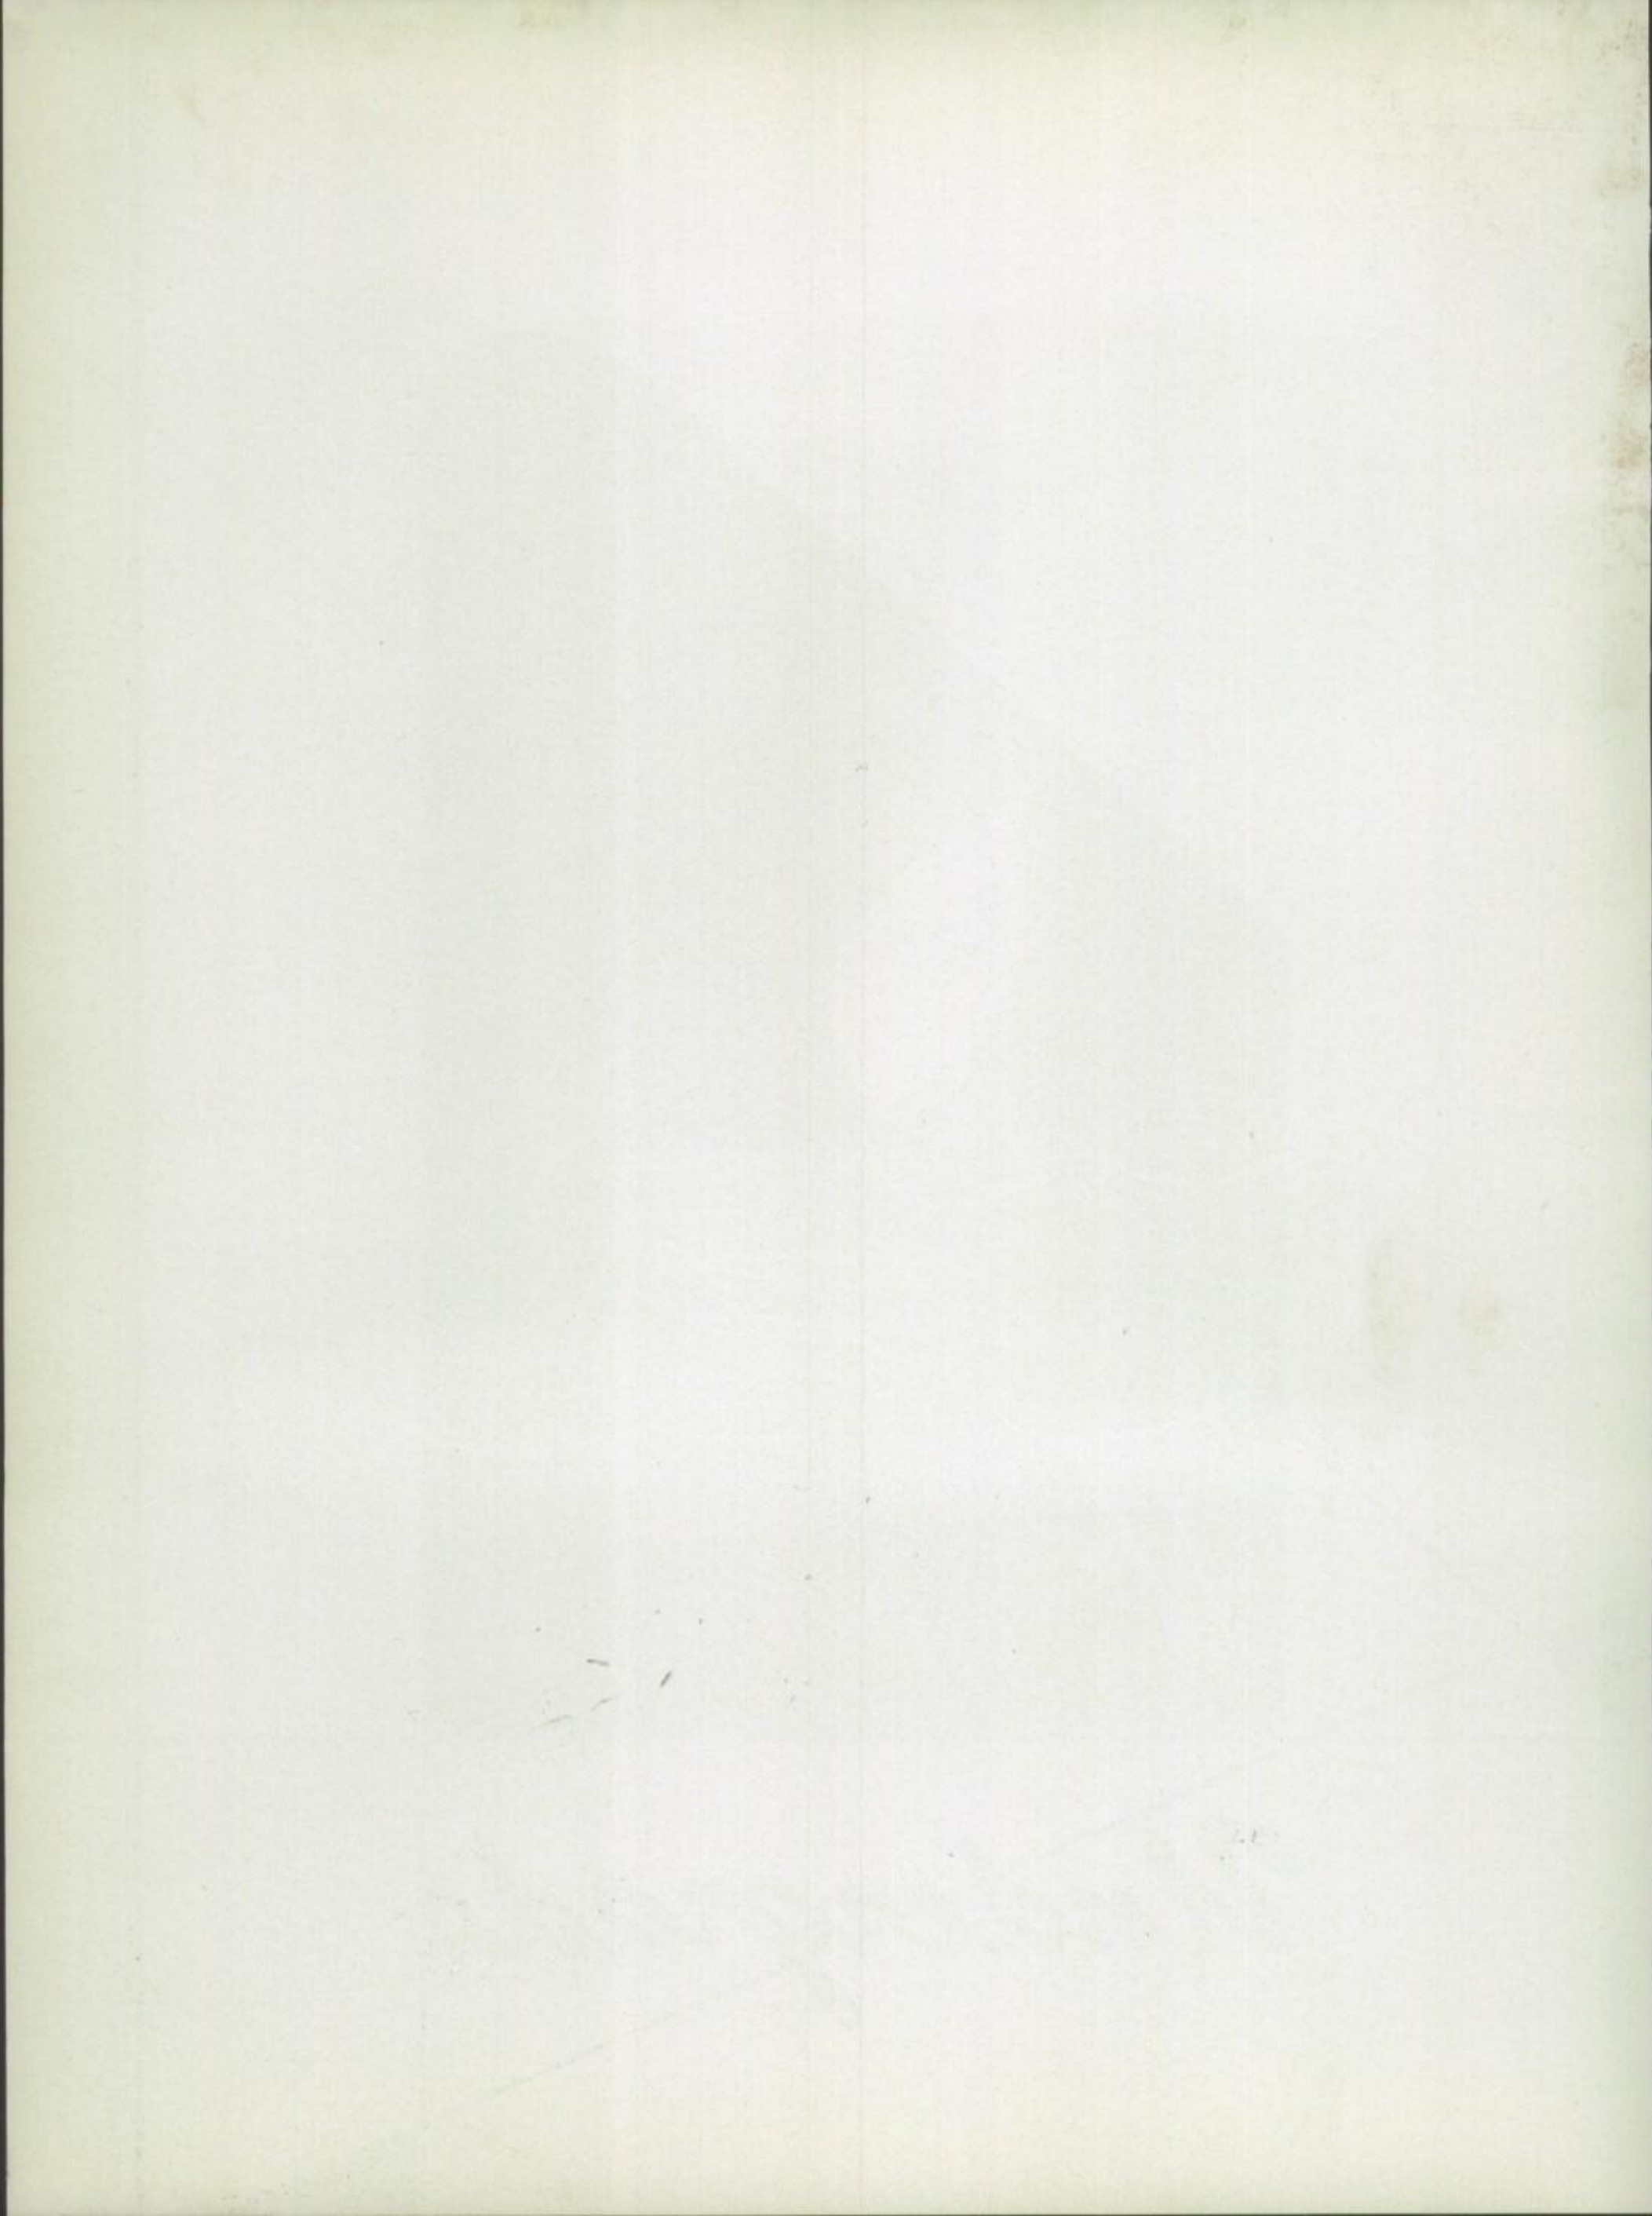

As the year went by we seniors had a carnival, our Class Play, Sneak Day, and the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Now, as we say so-long to Homer High we look to the future with high hopes and ideals, but we will never forget the years we spent in Homer and the good times we have had together.

History of the Junior Class

The junior class of 1953-1954 first met on the first Monday in September 1951. At that time there were only nine members. They were: Rosaline Bates, Frances Sorensen, Dean Mongar, Gary Clayton, David Nelson, Claude Griffery, John Eastman, Bob Jacobsen, and Rex Pigg.

The class officers were: Rex Pigg, president; Dean Mongar, vice-president; and Rosaline Bates, secretary.

The teachers that year for this class were: Mr. Weber (general science one semester-world geography the other), Mrs. Doran (English, general science one semester and world geography the other) and Mr. Slosson (mathematics).

The beginning of our sophomore year saw two new faces come into the scene. They were Janice Nelsen, a transfer from Winnebago, and Bob Tighe, a transfer from Heelan High. It also saw two new teachers for our class. They were Mr. Hanson, the new coach and our world history teacher, and Miss Irle our typing teacher. Mrs. Doran was our biology and English teacher.

The class officers were the same as in our freshman year.

The 1953-54 school year sees us with another new pupil who transferred from Emerson. His name is LeRoy Treft. However, our small class failed to grow for John Eastman enlisted in the marines. Our junior year again brought some new teachers. Mr. Strasburg replaced Mr. Slosson as the school superintendent. Miss Irle is no longer with us and in her place is Mrs. Wagner who teaches us bookkeeping and shorthand. Our other subjects are: American literature taught by Mrs. Doran, American problems taught by Mr. Hanson, and shop for the boys also taught by Mr. Hanson. We put on a class play entitled "Hillbilly Courtship" which was a success for we made quite a bit of money and did not do too bad a job of acting. We are trying to raise money for the Junior-Senior banquet.

Our class officers are: David Nelson, president; Rex Pigg, vice-president; Rosaline Bates, secretary and Dean Mongar, Student Council.

This brings our history of the junior class up to date.

As freshmen we entered Homor High School with high hearts and quaking knees. Mr. Hansen, who was our first sponsor, had to put up with twenty-one of us.

The first item on our agenda was election of officers, and Melvin Lauritsen, president; Rita King, vice-president; Marilyn Young, secretary; and Rodney Longwell, treasurer; emerged victorious.

The fifth Friday after the beginning of school, we freshmen faced our doom. We were forced to submit to initiation and Kangaroo Court, which was enjoyed by everyone but us freshmen.

By this time football was well under way. The strong "muscle men" from our class who participated were Allan Jensen, Larry Jacobsen, Modris Lakstins, Donald Baugous, Rodney Longwell, Melvin Lauritsen, Francis Cain, and Robert Krumwiede.

The basketball season followed football and again Robert Krumwiede, Melvin Lauritsen, Larry Jacobsen, Allen Jensen, Donald Baugous, Modris Lakstins, and Rodney Longwell went bravely forward.

The only class activity for our freshman year was a trip over to the Sioux City Public Library and Museum, and a picnic supper in Stone Park which was financed by our ignorance. You see, during English we paid one cent for each error in speech and we used this fund for the food for our picnic. Boy! Did we eat!

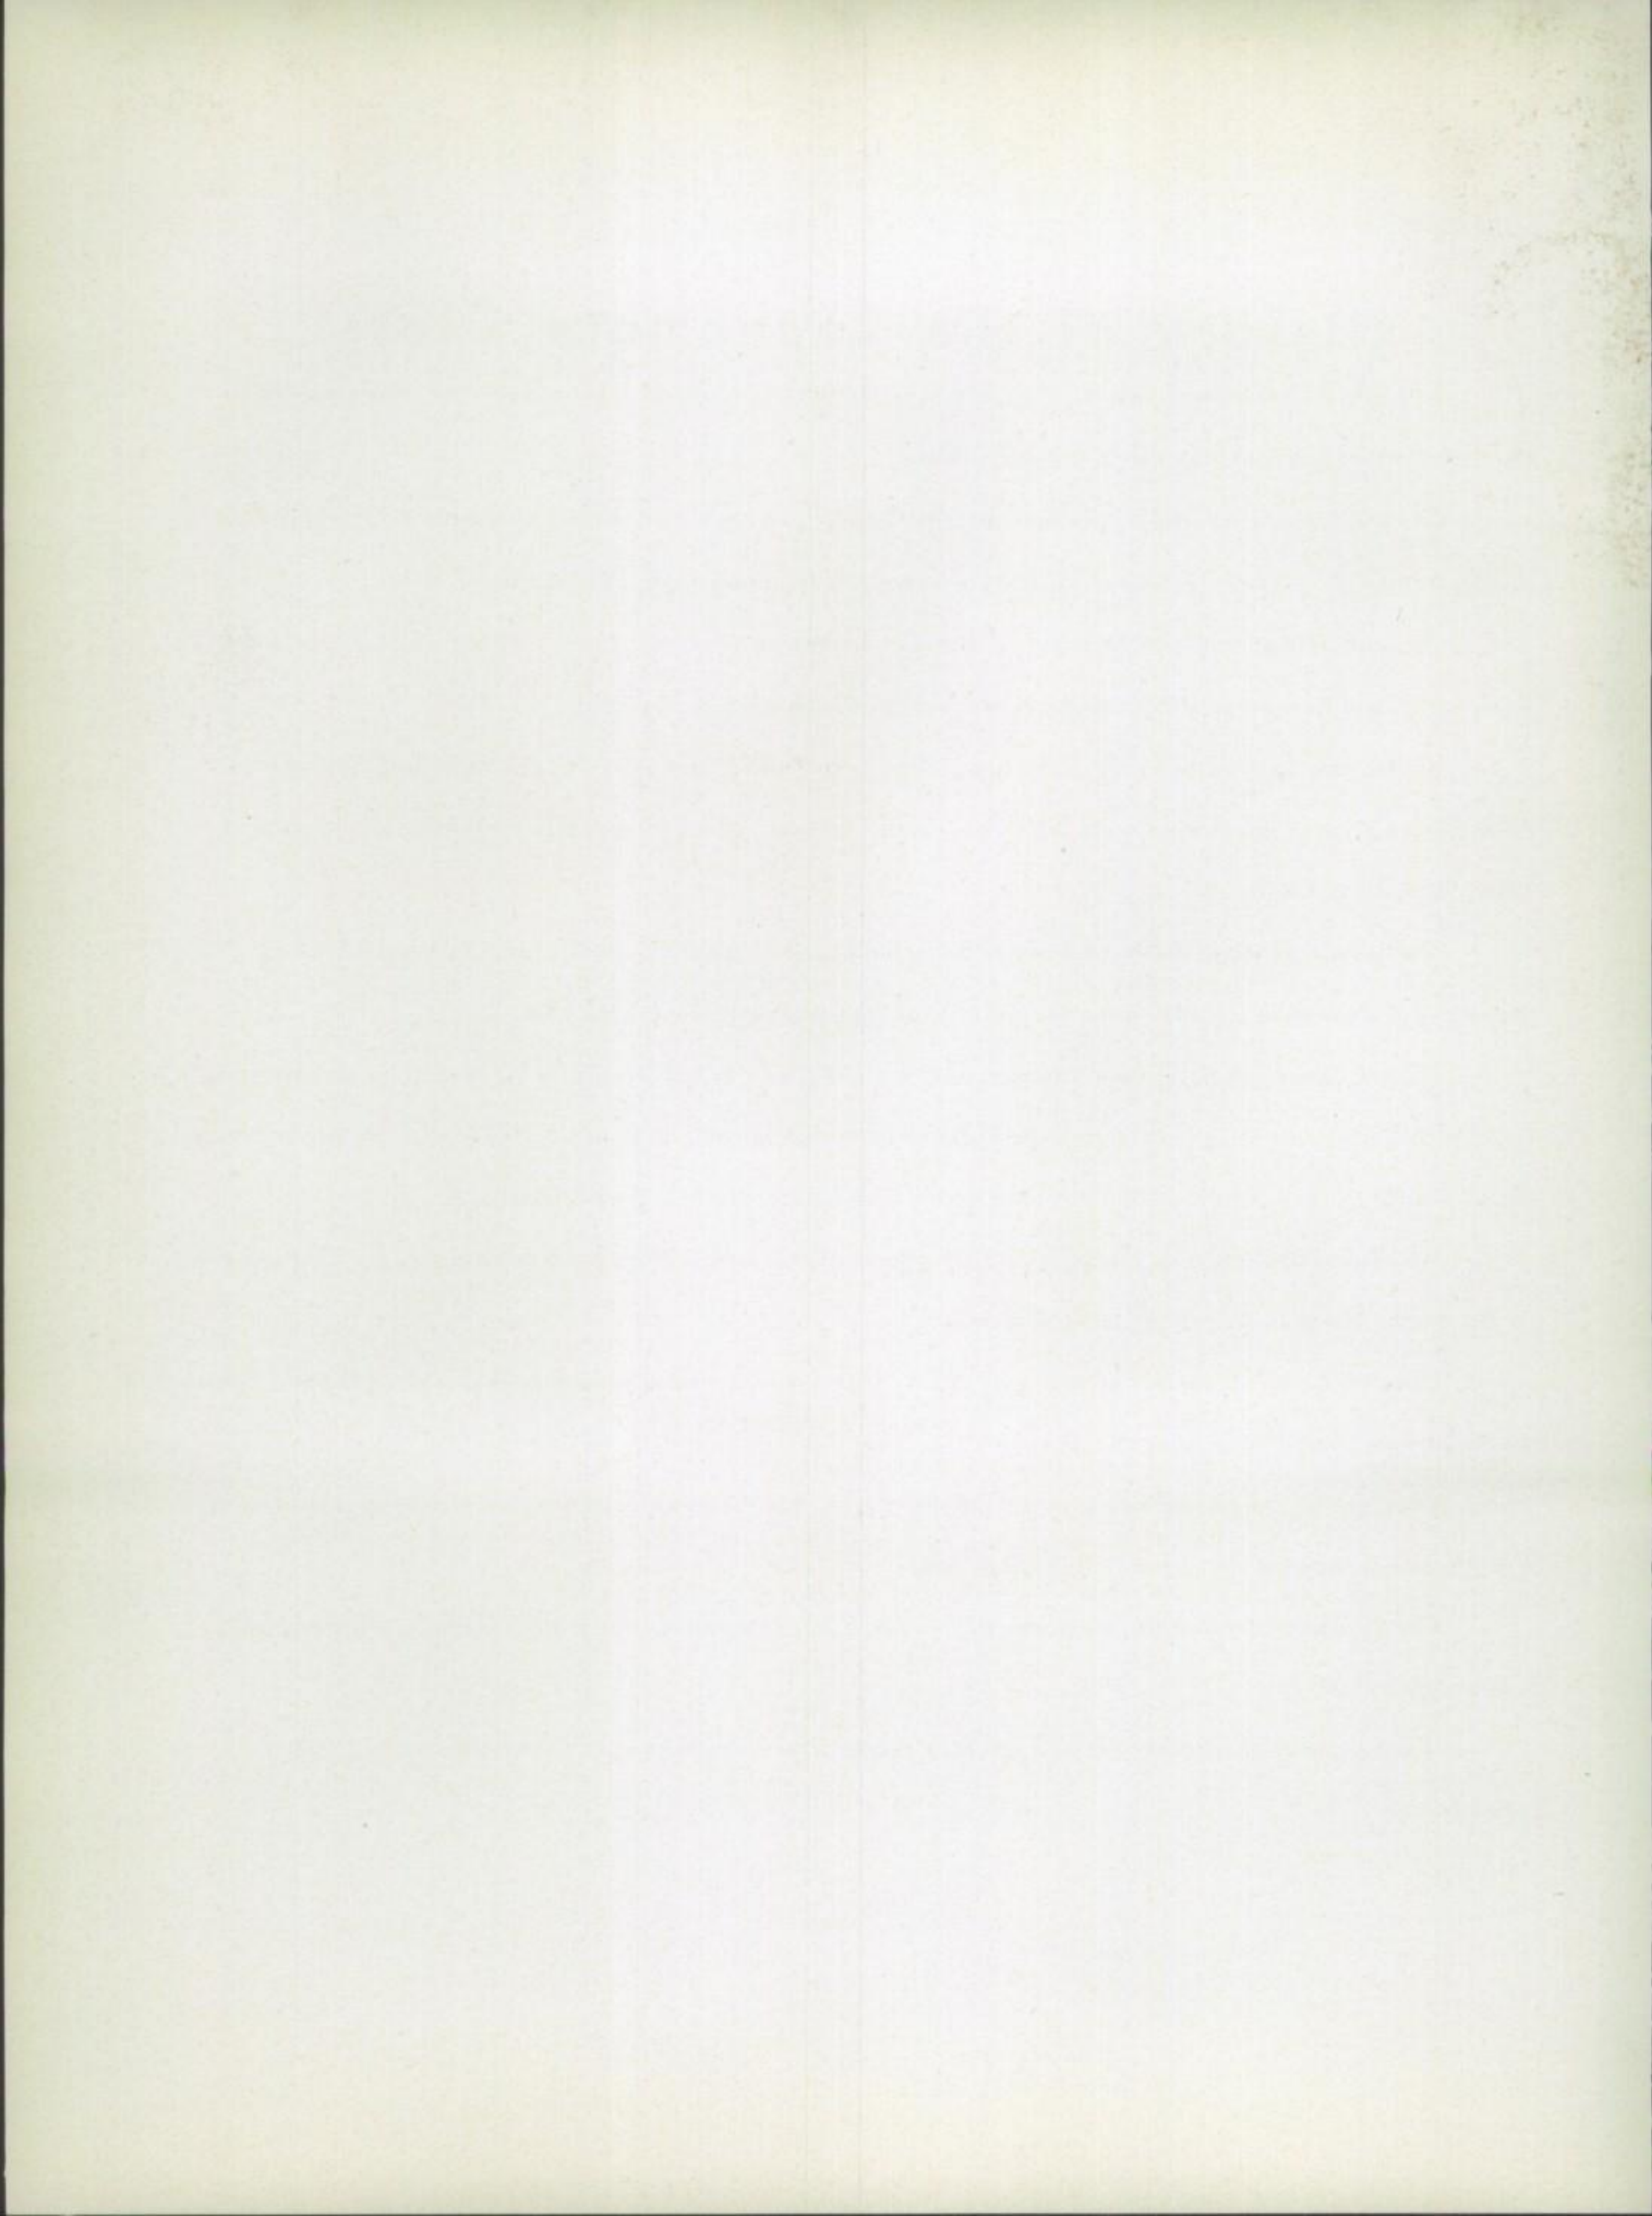

We began our sophomore year with poor Mr. Hansen once more doomed to be our sponsor, but fate was good to him and he had only sixteen of us to put up with.

Class officers were elected as follows: Melvin Lauritsen, president; John Panches, vice-president; Gary Honsen, secretary; and Donald Baugous, treasurer.

Only one of the sweet sophomore girls, Betty Wilke, had the opportunity of being chosen cheerleader, but she did such a good job that we are all proud of her.

Our entertainment for this year was a trip to Sioux City to a movie, also a hayride and wiener roast which was a great success.

It is customary to end the year with a school picnic, and needless to say, where there's food, there's sophomores.

History of Freshman Class

As "green" freshmen we entered Homer High School on August 31st. Fifteen scared, "green" freshmen came walking up Homer High steps. Of course the first day is the worst day because you don't know what's going to happen.

The first day we were told what subjects and teachers we were going to have in each class. We elected our class officers which are the following: president-John Longwell; vice president Keith Rose; and secretary-Mylet McFarlin. We elected one member to the Student Council which was Duane Evans but since they (the twins) moved, Nancy Harris has taken his place. The freshman class sponsor is Mrs. Wagner.

On the Friday of the fourth week we faced "Initiation" in the afternoon by the juniors and Kangaroo Court in the evening by the seniors. A dance followed initiation exercises which was a lot more fun than the initiation exercises.

Next around the corner was our Halloween party. At this we had a "scavenger hunt."

In the last part of January we gave Dwight and Duane Evans a skating party and afterwards we had a wiener roast.

In the spring of the year we plan to go to Sioux City and spend the dues we have collected in English class for our poor speech. We hope our sophomore year will be as successful as our freshman year.

Kindergarten-First-Second

Mrs. Swanson

We began our school year with thirty-three children, nineteen in the primary, seven in the first grade and seven in the second grade. About mid term we lost two students, Terry Garner and Vernon McAfee. On March first Timmy Nelson joined our first grade group and our enrollment now stands at thirty-two.

We have had many interesting activities in our room but we have especially enjoyed our outside excursion trips. We have visited our local library and post office as well as numerous trips around town looking for Nature study specimens.

At the beginning of the school year we decided that in order to be happy students we must work in a pleasingly decorated room and an attractive room has been our years' project. We have always tried to have a good bulletin board display so that visitors to our room might see at a glance our present projects.

Third, Fourth, and Fifth Grades

Mrs. Seibens

We completed several projects this fall and winter. Our major project was making puppets from paper mache. Each student made his own character puppet and clothed him. Another successful project was the making of covered wagons for the Dakota County Teachers Association dinner which was held at Homer, January 25th. Our covered wagons served as "nut cups" at the dinner.

Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth Grades

We have, this year, combined the sixth, seventh and eighth grades and so have a total of twenty-one students.

Throughout the year we have participated in many activities. Our Halloween costume party was enjoyed by everyone. The committees provided appropriate Halloween games, decorations and lunch.

At Christmas-time, along with the third, fourth, and fifth grades, we presented a portion of the Christmas program.

Our Christmas party was observed by an exchange of gifts and treats.

One of the most interesting projects of the year was the making of Christmas decorations. Centerpieces for our mothers were made of logs to hold candles. Our fathers were treated to homemade fudge.

In May we presented a program in honor of our mothers. Each mother was presented with a carnation.

Our boys have enjoyed basketball this year taking part in their tournament at Dakota City.

Our room has greatly missed Judy McManigal who has had to miss the year of schooling because of illness. We hope she will be able to rejoin us this fall. During the year we have written her letters, sent cards and gifts.

Social Activities

First in the parade of social activities of this year was initiation. The juniors forced the "green" freshmen to wear everything from bathing suits to baby clothes. In the evening, the seniors made life even more miserable at Kangaroo Court which was followed by a dance and refreshments, compliments of the sophomores.

The next big event was a Halloween Party sponsored by the seniors. This consisted of dancing and refreshments, which everyone enjoyed.

We also celebrated Christmas with a dance following the Christmas Program.

The Student Council made sure Valentines Day was not forgotten.

The parade of social activities comes to an end with the two most awaited events. The fireman's annual Athletic Banquet held on April 13 awarded a deserving senior the honor of outstanding athlete of the year. The Junior-Senior Banquet on April 24 proved worthy of the anticipation also. The juniors certainly showed the seniors a good time at this formal event.

We seniors leave school with memories of the formal prom given in our honor by the Student Council. It was a wonderful way to say farewell.

Homecoming

Initiation

Homecoming

The Homecoming of 1953 was a terrific success!

Although it started out badly, with the Knights losing the football game, it proved to be one of the most memorable of Homer High.

The coronation began at eight o'clock p.m., November ninth.

The queen, Betty Georgesen, and the king, Richard Lund, were attired in scarlet robes lined with white satin.

Their attendants selected from each class were: Mylet McFarlin and John Longwell, freshmen; Marilyn Young and Larry Jacobsen, sophomores; Frances Sorensen and Robert Tighe, juniors; and Hallene Anderson and James Nelsen, seniors.

A procession played by Nancy Harris accompanied the royalty to the throne.

A welcoming address was given by Superintendent William Strausburg to the faculty, alumni, and friends. He then placed the crowns on the heads of our new queen and king of 1953.

After the coronation, the royalty and their attendants started the dance to a beautiful waltz played by Zean Zurcher's Orchestra.

Later in the evening the dance floor was transformed into a lovely rainbow of beautiful pastel formal.

It is no wonder this was one of the greatest Homecomings in the history of Homer High.

Alumni

There were fourteen members in the graduating class of '53. They were as follows: Bonnie Barnett, Lloyd Bates, Colleen Baugous, Dorothy Georgesen, Betty Heath, Bonnie Jean Heck, Patricia Hedrick, Stanley Jensen, Douglas King, Joyce Krumwiede, Phyllis Rohde, Roger Spencer, Melvin Stockton, and Maxine Trimble.

Bonnie Barnett is now happily married to Roger Spencer. She is working in the Dakota County Court House. At the present time they are living at Roger's parents' home.

Lloyd Bates isn't married yet. He is living at home and helping his parents. From what I hear, he is getting along fine with the girls in South Sioux City too.

Colleen Baugous is teaching school. She decided to go to Wayne last summer and make teaching a profession. She is living at home.

Dorothy Georgesen also decided to be a teacher and went to college last summer. She is staying at home except when the weather gets bad.

Betty Heath is married to Robert Hank. He is in the army and she is living with him in North Carolina where he is stationed.

Bonnie Jean Heck is still single but it doesn't look like it will last long. She is working at the Dakota County Court House and living at home.

Patricia Hedrick is married to James Huggenberger. They are living in South Sioux City and they now have a little boy.

Stanley Jensen is going to college at the University of Nebraska. He doesn't come home very often so I know very little about his activities at the present.

Douglas King is working at Cudahy's for the time being. He's had several jobs since graduation and been to California for awhile. As anyone could guess, he's not married.

Joyce Krumwiede is, as everybody expected, married to Duane Jenkins. They are living on a farm and everything points to a happy marriage.

Phyllis Rohde went to Wayne last summer and is teaching school. She is living at home. She isn't married but is having a good time.

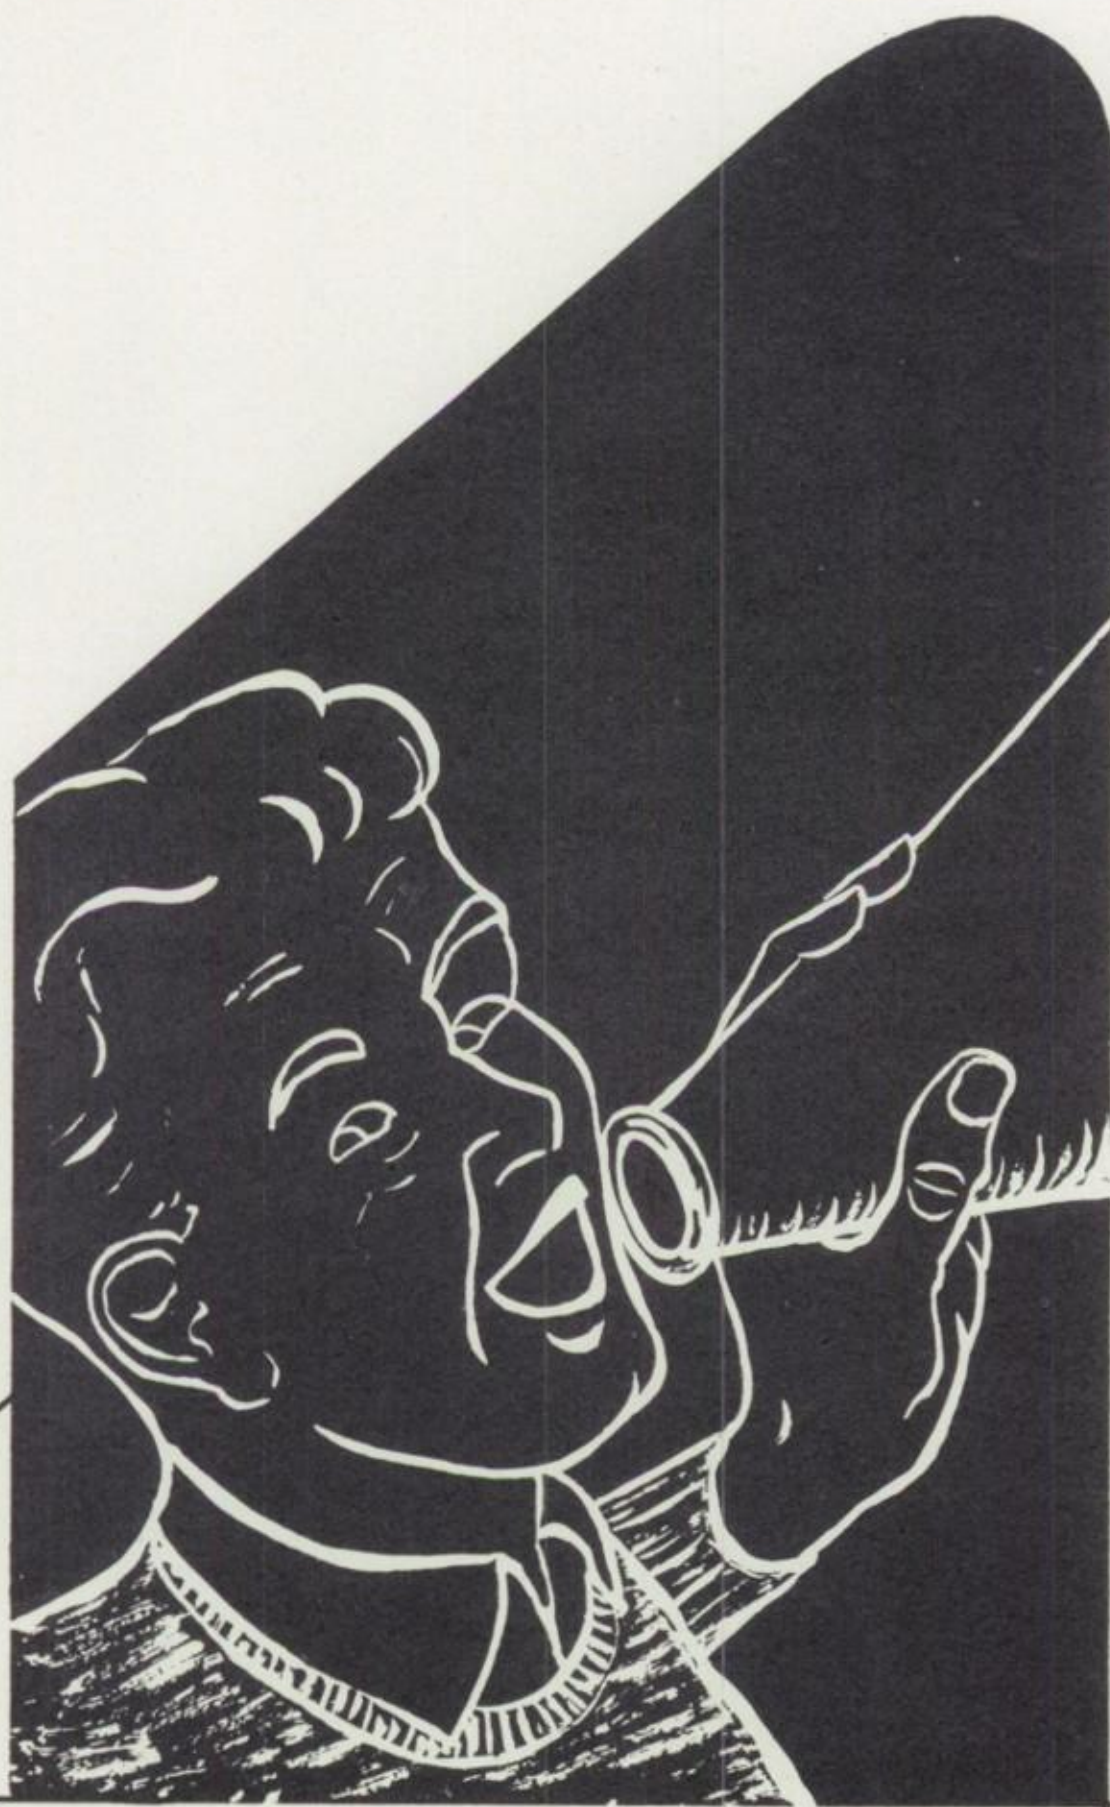

Roger Spencer, as you already know, is married to Bonnie Barnett. He is working at Chesterman's in Sioux City. I guess he has about all that he would ever have asked for.

Melvin Stockton is living at home. He has had a couple of jobs but at present doesn't have any. He is leaving for the navy on April 1.

Maxine Trimble is living at home. She is working at Younker's at present but is going to work in the Dakota County Court House in the near future. She isn't married either.
